Organized Labor Facing Wall Street's Experience in Senate Investigation

Special Committee Prepares to Study Financial Methods

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (UP) — The stop-and-listen sign is up for organized labor in the United States. The sign blazes brightest right now for the most powerful union of them all — Dave Beck's Teamsters. Beck and other labor leaders within whose unions are fat locals with peculiar methods of keeping books would do well to take a tip from Wall Street's experience.

A special Senate committee is squaring away now for an investigation of suspect union financial practices. As good a friend of organized labor as Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) chaired a lesser investigation two years ago.

The house cleaners from the outside already are moving. Douglas Thursday introduced in the Senate a bill directed against embezzlement, kickbacks and other abuses in the union administration of employee welfare funds. Co-sponsors were Sen. James E. Murray (D-Mont.), a notable New Dealer, and Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.) a left of center Republican, neither ever accused of labor baiting.

Report Of Last Probe

Douglas reported that his 1955 inquiry turned up "shocking abuses such as embezzlement, collusion, kickbacks, exorbitant insurance charges, mismanagement, waste, extravagance, indifference, nepotism."

Old timers around town can remember when good friends of Wall Street were making equally serious charges against the big-time financial practices which flowered in what became known as the Coolidge boom. Wall Street big shots scorned the device of taking a Fifth Amendment defense against testifying to their own misdeeds. There was perjury aplenty, however, in the record of the Senate's stock market investigation conducted by a banking and currency subcommittee with Judge Ferdinand Pecora of New York as chief counsel.

It is not necessarily a reflection on Dave Beck that he presently is out of the country and out of the subpoena jurisdiction of Senate labor investigators, nor that he is the lone big-time labor holdout against firing union officials who hide behind the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution.

Beck might consider, however, the ancient dictum which goes like this: The bigger they are, the harder they fall. Wall Street learned the truth of that the hard way. In the process of learning, a president of the New York Stock Exchange went to jail, the presi-

HTHS Student Council To Sponsor College Night on February 13

The Student Council of the Harrisburg Township high school is sponsoring the seventh annual College Night Wednesday, Feb. 13, at 7 o'clock.

Students from eighteen high schools in this area are invited to attend and consult with representatives from 29 colleges. The colleges have all been represented before, except the University of Chicago.

This affair has grown each year, beginning with only 14 colleges, and is a most appreciated service for high school students who are interested in entering a college.

Attend National Association of Soil Districts

A. A. Gholson, Ewell Harris and Lowell Wise, directors of the Saline County Soil Conservation District, returned Thursday from St. Louis, Mo., where they attended a four day convention of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts.

Their wives accompanied them and participated in the program of the Ladies Auxiliary of the National Association.

District directors from all states of the nation were in attendance at the convention held in the Hotel Sheraton-Jefferson. Many national leaders in soil conservation work appeared on the program. The local directors picked up several pointers on district operation which should enable them to render a greater service to the district co-operators in Saline county, they stated.

Work unit conservationists, Tom Morgan and Mrs. Morgan, were also in attendance at the convention.

Dies Near E-town

Mrs. Anna Griffith, 89, died at 10 p. m. yesterday at her home near Elizabethtown.

The body was taken to the Hosick funeral home in Rosiclare and funeral plans are incomplete.

Family Members Keep Informed By News Letter

I HAD THE PRIVILEGE of looking at an interesting book yesterday. It wasn't a published book but a number of mimeographed sheets between some hand-tooled covers.

They were copies of Miller News, described as "Official organ of the gabbins' descendants of Eugene and Beulah Miller, respectfully dedicated to mother and dad." Dad died some time back; Mrs. Miller is still living at Eldorado.

IT ALL STARTED back in November of 1955. Young Eddie Miller (he used to play the organ on the Golden Key quartet programs on WSIL-TV, who had moved to Evansville to work, sent out a mimeographed letter to all the members of his immediate family for their ideas on getting out one single news letter for the six children and the mother.

"It seems a shame that each of us cannot keep in touch more often for we all love each other so very much, yet we're so far apart and most of us correspond so seldom, why can't we do better?" he wrote.

He said he wanted all to get letters to him by Dec. 15 so that he could get out his first mimeographed paper before Christmas.

So Vol. 1, No. 1 of Miller News made its first appearance at Christmas time, 1955. It started out with a letter from Eddie, followed by letters from the others. The children are W. R. Miller of Exeter, Calif., Mrs. F. L. (Olive) Clair of Omaha, Texas, Mrs. W. O. (Regena) Murphy of Broomall, Pa., Mrs. Frankie Smith of Eldorado, Mrs. Walter (LaWanda) Purcell of Carmi and Eddie at Evansville. Mrs. Smith had her copies at the office of Circuit Clerk James R. Burroughs, where she is a deputy clerk.

Hand-tooled leather covers in which the family members could keep their copies of Miller News were made for all by Mrs. Clair. The paper has been issued by Eddie on an every-other-month schedule since December, 1955 with another issue due this month.

HUMOR DEPT.: A taciturn Maine Deppert was visited by a Bostonian who was walking around the pig pens when he heard a pig talking. Amazed, he asked the farmer:

"How long have you had this pig?"

"Two years," was the reply.

"How long has the pig been talking?"

"Two years."

"Great heavens, man, why have you never told anyone about this?"

"Well, I thought he would outgrow it."

Rainfall Here

Measures 1.03 Inch

Rainfall between 7 a. m. yesterday and 7 a. m. today measured 1.03 inch in Harrisburg and .92 inch at Galatia, Harrison Kibler reported today.

Middle Fork was rising this morning and Amos Doom, superintendent of the city water and sewer department, said there were good prospects that water could be pumped into the standby reservoirs during the day.

Weeks Differs with Humphrey and Hoover; Sees No Depression Signs

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks says the United States is not even "remotely" close to a depression. His view clashes with the views of Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey and former President Hoover.

Humphrey and Mr. Hoover have predicted the country would plunge into an economic tailspin eventually unless inflation were halted and government spending slashed. Weeks also said Thursday at a news conference the administration has no plans to slap government controls on wages and prices to brake inflation.

"I just instinctively recoil from controls in a free economy," he said.

President Eisenhower said at a news conference this week that the government might step in with "controls of some kind" if business and labor didn't voluntarily hold the line against inflation. Weeks said there is no difference between his views and those of the President.

The secretary said there is "no disposition on the part of the administration" for applying inflation-braking controls.

"No studies are being made on the subject and no plans are being made to impose such controls," he said.

Weeks joined the President in urging labor and business to brake inflationary pressures by exercising self-restraint in seeking wage and price increases.

He said that if labor and management will heed Mr. Eisenhower's warning, he does not look for any great rise in prices this year. Weeks was asked about recent remarks by Mr. Hoover and AFL

A. D. Gidcumb Licensed as Real Estate Broker

A. D. "Doug" Gidcumb

A. D. "Doug" Gidcumb, 927 South Granger street, has been licensed by the state of Illinois as a real estate broker. He took the examination on Jan. 14, and is planning to operate temporarily in the real estate business from his residence.

He will continue to operate also the used furniture store owned by his father, Joe Gidcumb, at 17 South Vine street.

Mr. Gidcumb has been connected with the furniture business during his adult life, with the exception of a tour of duty overseas during World War II, as a B-17 pilot. He is a graduate of the Harrisburg Township high school and has a wife and three children.

Miner Thanks Fellow Worker For Saving Life

ROSICLARE, Ill. (UP) — An injured miner today thanked a fellow worker for his Herculean efforts to keep tons of oozing mud from burying him alive.

John Reed, 52, suffering from shock, concussion and a fractured knee, was pulled from the mounting mud by a 60-man rescue team in the Aluminum Company of America fluorspar mine Thursday.

Reed, from Marion, Ky., had been working at the 300-foot level with Grant Ralphs, 40, Sparks Hill, Ill., when roof timbers cracked beneath the strain of an estimated 100 tons of mud.

Ralphs managed to dodge the avalanche, but Reed was trapped by the mud, which slopped up to his knees.

Ralphs grabbed a shovel and heaved the mud from Reed's body as fast as it climbed. He was able to keep the upper part of Reed's body above the slime, while he shouted for help. Fellow miners reached the stranded pair through an auxiliary shaft, and freed Reed.

Reed praised his companion's heroic gesture.

"If it hadn't been for him the mud would have covered me."

"I thought it was the end," he added, "but I kept praying that if it was the Lord's will, I would be spared."

Letter Writer 'Confesses' Slaying of Sisters; Asks Mother for Forgiveness

CHICAGO (UP) — Authorities sought today the identity of a letter writer who "confessed" the slaying of two teen-aged sisters and asked the victim's mother for forgiveness.

Police also awaited a complete medical report on the cause of the girls' deaths in the hope it might shed light on the murder. The report is expected to be ready today or Saturday.

The latest possible clue came in a letter signed "Trudy" and sent to the victims' mother, Mrs. Loretta Grimes, 48.

The letter, similar to one received by Mrs. Grimes last Saturday, said in part:

"My name is Trudy. Please forgive me for killing your daughters."

The letter listed the names of two men, one nicknamed "Trudy," and urged Mrs. Grimes to "tell police to check on them."

Authorities sought the two men listed in the letter and the mystery writer.

Sheriff Joseph Lohman returned from Alabama where he investigated reports of a car which might be involved in the case. He refused to talk to reporters and did not disclose the results of his trip.

The sheriff's office, meanwhile, was given one week in which to present evidence to support its murder charges against Bennie (The Dishwasher) Bedwell, a Skid Row illiterate who first confessed and then denied the slaying.

Bedwell, meanwhile, took up residence at a Salvation Army institution and began learning the trade of furniture repairing. He said he is determined to stay off Skid Row, learn a trade and possibly attend night school to learn how to read and write.

Israel Rejects Eisenhower Plea to Withdraw Forces

Drivers Escape Serious Injury in Mishaps; SEIEC Truck Skids In Ditch

Auto Driven by High School Youth Hits Abutment

Two drivers escaped serious injury in two mishaps on Route 45 a quarter of a mile from each other this morning just south of Harrisburg.

A truck belonging to the Southern Illinois Electric co-operative driven by Herman Lands of Harrisburg was all but submerged in Pankey Branch about 150 yards southwest of Pauper Crossing when the vehicle skidded into the water-filled ditch about 8 a. m.

Lands, taken to his home, said he got a cold bath but was not hurt.

Premier Sends 3-Page Letter To President

Spokesman Says Guarantees Vital for Nation's Security

UNITED NATIONS (UP) — Premier David Ben Gurion today rejected President Eisenhower's plea for an Israeli withdrawal from all Egyptian territory, an Israeli government spokesman announced in Tel Aviv.

The spokesman said the rejection was contained in a three-page letter sent today to Mr. Eisenhower.

The Israeli spokesman said the situation had reached "rock bottom" and there could be no further retreat.

Ben Gurion's note was in reply to a letter sent by Mr. Eisenhower last Sunday. Informed sources in Israel described the President's note as "polite but firm" in its request that Israel should withdraw behind the 1949 armistice line.

The Israeli spokesman in Tel Aviv said guarantees of freedom of navigation in the Gulf of Aqaba and adequate safeguard against new Egyptian attacks were vital for the security of Israel.

U. N. Talks Deadlocked
Israeli Foreign Ministry Director-General Walter Eytan said Israel's determination to remain in the Gaza Strip and the Aqaba Gulf area remains unchanged, even in the face of U. N. sanctions.

Eytan's statement indicated a deadlock has been reached in U. N. withdrawal talks between Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold and Israeli Ambassador Abba S. Eban.

Eban said Israel had carried out the U. N. resolution calling for withdrawal "to all intents and purposes."

He added that Israel would welcome international observers who would then report on the situation to Hammarskjold. He insisted, however, that Israel continue to police the occupied areas.

So long as Egypt is not willing to agree to "mutual and full abstention from belligerence," Eytan said, it will be impossible for the Israeli government to change its attitude.

Five Arabs Killed
Ben Gurion, meanwhile, met with opposition party leaders to enlist their support for possible national austerity if threats of U. N. sanctions against Israel are carried out, informed sources in Tel Aviv said.

Earlier Jerusalem reports said that Israel, working to stave off Arab demands for sanctions, had sent further details of its withdrawal terms to U. N. headquarters. Details of the reports could not be learned.

UP Correspondent Urges U.S. Take All Refugees Possible

NORTHFIELD, Minn. (UP)—United Press foreign correspondent Russell Jones urged Thursday night that the United States take in all Hungarian refugees possible.

Jones, the lone American newsman in Budapest until he was expelled during last November's revolution, said the refugees should be accepted "not only because we have a moral responsibility, but also because it's smart propaganda."

Jones spoke in his home town at a meeting sponsored by the American Red Cross and several service organizations. The audience included his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jones of Northfield.

Eugene L. McCormack To Fill Pastorate

Eugene L. McCormack, son of Lee McCormack of Harrisburg, has been called to fill the pastorate at the Methodist church in Victoria, Ill.

He is a mid-term graduate of the Theological Seminary of the University of Dubuque in Iowa and will receive the Bachelor of Divinity degree when 1957 commencement exercises are conducted next June.

He has served this church as a student pastor and will remain as full time appointee.

Clerks Support Blood Program

Retail Clerks local union No. 896 has taken action urging the members of the local and all other persons to give their support to the Saline county blood program.

The union will provide transportation to and from the Bloodmobile which will be at the Elks club Tuesday, Feb. 12 from noon to 6 p. m. Those who wish to donate blood but who do not have transportation may call the Retail Clerk office, phone 263 or Mozelle Spencer, chairman of the committee to support the blood program, at her home, phone 272J.

Encouraging Visit

It is gratifying that the British defense minister, Duncan Sandys, has been so well received by American officials. His visit seems a good step on the way to restored full relations with Britain under the new Macmillan government.

Sandys' mission had specific aims: the coordination of Western defenses, particularly in the guided missile field. Since Britain is bent on defense cutbacks, it is more than ever conscious of the need for tight links with the U. S. in the production and deployment of the most modern weapons available.

Yet while these are the particulars of Sandys' visit, the broader value would appear to lie in the fact that it constitutes the first really warm meeting between top American and British officials since the British launched their assault upon Suez last fall.

Everyone interested in the durability of our traditional alliance with Britain will be pleased at this sign of improvement and will be hoping it is a token of further betterment to come.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
King Saud Is Supposed To Remain Only 10 Days; He Declined Inspection Tour Of USA; Part Of His Lamb Supplied By Jewish Commission Merchants.

WASHINGTON.—The State Department has had its problems in handling King Saud and his retinue. Some of the problems, such as the refusal of Mayor Robert Wagner of New York to greet the king, have been widely publicized.
Most of them haven't.

One problem, for instance, is purely budgetary. The State Department is restricted by Congress in the amount of money it can spend on entertaining foreign notables, and therefore has set a rule that chiefs of state cannot bring along more than 10 retainers. This was stretched to include 15 aides for President Su-karno of Indonesia, but the State Department's budget will not stretch to the point of King Saud's retinue of 70.

Therefore the Saudi embassy, with an assist from the Arabian-American Oil company, is picking up the check for the balance.

Saudi Arabia, not the United States, also paid for the king and his retinue's passage on the USS Constitution. When the king leaves, he will go by way of Europe and will be flown by a U. S. plane though not the Columbine.

Twenty of the king's party are at Blair House, paid by the government, and the rest at the Shoreham Hotel, paid by Aramco.
The housekeeper at Blair House was only ready for a three-day visit by his majesty and has really been sweating since Saud decided to spend his entire 10 days in Washington. Ten days, incidentally is the unofficial limit on time a chief of state is supposed to remain at government expense.

The king's change of plans also caused a sweat at the State Department. Originally, it was planned to take him on a tour of American factories and farms to impress him with modern America. But he said no. He was very positive on this point, said his two sons could make the inspection trip, that he would relax in a near-by palace. Hastily the State Department arranged for him to stay at the Greenbrier, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.
Then he changed his mind a second time and decided to remain in Washington. Blair House, across from the White House, was quite good enough.

THE KING'S LAMB

Another minor problem for the State Department has been the procurement of the king's lamb.
The king doesn't know it, but two-thirds of his lamb while in Washington has been purchased from either Jewish or Catholic whole-salers.

The District Hotel Supply Co., owned by Morris Kraft, supplied the top-grade saddles of lamb for the king's dinner at the Mayflower. The Southern Hotel Supply Co., owned by Thomas Keane, sold 12 loins of lamb and 30 ribs of top midwest beef to the Mayflower for another dinner.

The Columbia Hotel Supply, owned by Armour and Co., sold a lot of whole lambs to the White House for the king. A government agent accompanied the shipment.

Another problem that worried the State Department was an earlier arrangement to have young Prince Mashur treated at the Kessler Institute for rehabilitation at West Orange, N. J., one of the leading institutions for treating crippled children. At the last minute, arrangements were cancelled, because Henry Kessler, head of the institute, is Jewish.

The State Department was not prompted by any distrust of Dr.
Kessler, who it knew would treat the Moslem prince just as conscientiously as any other patient, but rather from the fear that King Saud would misunderstand if anything went wrong. The State Department itself knew that Arab children are given exactly the same treatment as Jewish children in the government hospitals of Israel.

UNDER THE DOME

Barbershop singing was the main entertainment when President Eisenhower and Mamie entertained an elite group of the Supreme Court, Congress, and the diplomatic corps the other night.
The program was given by the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Singing (SPEBS), and included "Minnie The Mermaid," "Back Home In Indiana," "Carolina In The Morning," and "Waiting For The Robert E. Lee." Ike, an alumnus of West Point quartets, seldom sings at the White House but likes to see his guests join in.

There are few "silent" men left in Congress. One, however, is GOP Rep. William R. Williams of Cassville, N. Y., a former sheriff, a fourth-termers who boasts that he "has never made a speech in Congress and probably never will."
He raises potatoes and is known to colleagues as "Potato Bill." His district, however, is better known for its cheese. . . .
Congresswoman Edith Green of Oregon has been raiding the staffs of present and retired senators to build up an experienced team in her office. She has hired Herbert Beaser, Betty Herberner, and Nan Burgess, formerly with Senators Lehman, George, and Morse, respectively. . . . Dewey Short, the able, ex-GOP congressman from Missouri who was defeated in November, is being sounded out on the possibility of becoming a Republican "ambassador at large" in the United States. He would tour the U. S. A. with speeches explaining GOP politics to the common man—spiced with his famous Ozark wit.

History will decide whether he is right, but President Eisenhower is convinced that the visit of King Saud will prove a boon to world peace. The President appeared as cheerful as though he had just golfed a sub-par score in discussing the Arabian monarch's visit with GOP congressional leaders the other day.

"My meetings with the king were very effective — all that I could ask for," he declared. "I was particularly pleased with his reactions to our proposals, his sincerity, and his eagerness to exchange ideas. I am convinced that our talks with him made definite progress toward peace both in the Middle East and the rest of the world."

The President was expressive-ly general in his summation, did not delve into the sordid details of oil politics and human destitution, including slavery, which has help-

Boy Scouts at All-Time High In Membership

Incident to the 47th birthday anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America being observed today, Dr.
Arthur A. Schuck, Chief Scout Executive, announced last night that the organization recorded a gain of 360,061 members in 1956, or an 8.6 per cent increase.

The all-time highest membership peak reached December 31, 1956, was 4,326,302 boys and adult leaders enrolled.

The boy membership shows 3,312,841 enrolled, a gain of 256,991 or 8.4 per cent during the year.
Cub Scouts, a program for boys eight, nine and ten years of age, number 1,169,856, a gain of 219,530 or 14.9 per cent. There are 1,152,974 Boy Scouts eleven, twelve and thirteen years of age, a gain of 12,290, or 1.1 per cent. Explorers age fourteen and over, total 465,011, a gain of 25,171 or 5.7 per cent.

Dr. Schuck also announced that there are now 1,213,461 adult leaders in the movement, a gain of 9.3 per cent.

On December 31 there were 111,674 units, a gain of 7,550 over the previous year or 7.3 per cent.
There are now 40,638 Cub Scout packs, 55,567 Boy Scout troops, and 15,469 Explorer Units.

Since its founding 47 years ago today the Boy Scouts of America has ended each year with a gain in membership, Dr. Schuck said. He stated that since 1910 there have been over 26,000,000 boys and leaders identified with the Boy Scouts of America.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

He humbled Himself.—Philippians 2:8.

The Infinite wants us to realize how near He is to us. He is more than the central force of the infinite universe. He is the Father, the Friend. His Son was born in a manger and took the form of a servant. We can approach Him freely and welcome. Confide in Him.

Despite its eight simple eyes,
the spider cannot clearly distinguish objects more than five or six inches away.

Mrs. Ada Rann Hostess
To McKinley Circle A

Circle A of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. Ada Rann Feb. 6 for the regular business and circle program.

Mrs. Amy Ford, circle chairman, presided. The meeting opened with song, "Send the Light," and with prayer by Mrs. Gertrude Hutchison. Minutes were read and approved and roll call was answered with a scripture verse. Reports were given by the different chairmen. The mission study chairman urged all the members to attend the book study at Pankeyville Baptist church Feb. 6; the community mission chairman stated that the project for the month was to visit, and enlist new members, and showed cards which were addressed and sent to sick and shut-ins. The stewardship chairman stated that there were no new tithers and urged each new member to tithe.

Mrs. Essie Holloway was in charge of the missionary lesson. The devotion was given by Mrs. Lola Ridley whose subject was "Like a Watered Garden." She took her scripture from Psalms 127:3-4, Psalms 1:1-3, and Jeremiah 17:7-8.

Topics were given by Mrs. Gertrude Hutchison who spoke on "Evangelism"; Mrs. Amy Reynolds, "Leadership Training," and Mrs. Holloway, "Latin America." Closing prayer was by Mrs. Amy Reynolds.

Two other members were also present, Mrs. Reba Clark and Mrs. Gertrude McMurry.

The next meeting will be at the church.

The hostess served lemon chiffon pie, whipped cream, coffee and cold drinks.

W. B. Welch, who had undergone surgery at the Welborn Memorial hospital in Evansville, Ind., returned home earlier this week and is recuperating at his home.

Hospital Notes
Harrisburg Hospital
Admitted:
Mrs. Bob Foster, 1909 Locust, Eldorado.
Mrs. W. A. Peebles, RFD 1, Pittsburg.

TO WED FEB. 16. Announcement is being made of the forthcoming marriage of Miss Robin Wathen to John S. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thompson, of Rural Route 1, Harrisburg, by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Wathen, also of RFD 1, Harrisburg. The couple plans to be married on Feb. 16 at the hour of 8 p. m. at the Bankston Baptist church. Since no invitations are being sent, all friends and relatives are invited to attend.

McKinley Avenue Circle B Meets at the Church
Circle B of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church held its regular meeting recently at the church.

The meeting was opened by the chairman, Jane Gasaway, and with all singing "Jesus Calls Us." Prayer was by Mrs. Helen Smith and Mrs. Henry Hendren. Ruby Hilliard had charge of the program.

Topics were given by Ida Rude who talked on "No Cross Roads on God's Course"; Rosa Short whose subject was "What If They Had Started Home"; and Della McDonald who talked on "The Unwelcomed Prophet" and Francis Ingram, "Not You but God."

The devotion was taken from Exodus 22:21-22 and was presented by Mrs. Hendren.

Refreshments of ice cream, angel food cake and coffee were served to the following: Mrs. Henry Hendren, Mrs. Carsa Gardner, Mrs. Nancy Fowler, Mrs. Rosa Short, Mrs. Ruby Hilliard, Mrs. Jane Gasaway, Mrs. Della McDonald, Mrs. Francis Ingram, Mrs. Volle Lamar, Mrs. Mary Curry, Mrs. Effie Beal, Mrs. Ida Rude, Mrs. Mary Ripperdan, and the W. M. S. president, Mrs. Huston Smith.

Y. W. A. Presents Program For Cornelia Leavell Circle At Dinner Meeting
The Cornelia Leavell circle of the First Baptist church met Tuesday evening for the regular dinner and business session. Twenty-four members were present and one visitor.

This group of women is a part of the W. M. S. of the church, but are those who work and are unable to attend the circle meeting in daytime.

The program for the evening was given by the Y. W. A.'s and their counselors, Mrs. Joe Morman and Mrs. S. J. Cole. This being the 50th anniversary of the Y. W. A. the program was presented along this line. One of the girls dressed in costume of yesterday turned the pages of the Y. W. A. calendar as another gave the advanced steps. Girls participating were Misses Diane Cass, Janice Stiff, Peggy Strader, Nancy Davis and Judy Franks. The circle members are proud of the Y. W. A. members and their counselors.

A very delicious dinner was served to this group by the ladies from the Presbyterian church. The members were happy to be served by these ladies and hope to have them again in the future.

St. Mary's Altar
Society Holds
Chili and Pie Supper

A chili and pie supper was enjoyed by the women of St. Mary's Altar society preceding the business meeting at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday in the church hall. Mrs. Leo Richmond opened and closed the program by reading the prayer for "Operation Understanding."

For the devotion Mrs. Mary Humm read an article on "Personality" which recommended that the members model their lives after Christ who was the greatest personality of all times.

Mrs. Trafton Dennis, chairman of the Red Cross committee, stated that the bloodmobile would visit Harrisburg Feb. 12 and asked those who wished to donate blood contact her.

Mrs. Eileen Patrick read the report of the sick and condolence committee which showed that during the month of January, one birth congratulation card, two condolence cards had been sent and 11 visitations had been made. Also, 39 corporal works of mercy were performed and one Mass offered for a deceased member.

Mrs. Eugene Bridwell announced that the children's Valentine party would be held Feb. 16 and the women voted to furnish the refreshments.

The society voted to order four additional folding tables and a suggestion was made that the material from the old tables be used to build book shelves and storage space for play equipment.

The new program books for 1957 were distributed and a report on the bake sale last Sunday was given.

Mrs. Eileen Patrick gave an inspiring report on the information she gathered on "Operation Understanding" at the meetings at Lawrenceville and Eldorado. Her talk was supplemented by point-ers by Mrs. Eugene Bridwell and Mrs. J. J. Klein announced that in this connection there would be a TV program and a news release in the Daily Register.

All the women are asked to assist with the cleaning of the church Thursday, Feb. 21, in preparation for open house.

The hostesses for the evening were: Mrs. Cecelia Shetter, Miss Dorothy Siedler, Mrs. Virginia Gooch, Mrs. Lester Wilmore, Mrs. Pete Stankunas, Mrs. H. N. Jarvis, Mrs. Gene Ragan, Mrs. Julius Steinmarsh, Mrs. J. J. Klein, Mrs. Louis Bobka, Mrs. Reuben Tucker, Mrs. Frank Humm, Mrs. Donald Baker, Mrs. Walter Brown, Mrs. Louis Humm, Mrs. Trafton Dennis, Mrs. W. R. Salus, Mrs. Alice Pavelonis, Mrs. Wm. Eyrard, Mrs. Leo Geiger, Mrs. Lloyd Parish and Mrs. Tom Wolf.

Woman Wills Million to Northwestern U.

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Ruth Jones Allison, daughter of co-founder of Inland Steel, has willed one-million dollars of her three-million-dollar estate to Northwestern University.

Mrs. Allison, who died Feb. 1 at the age of 70, had pledged an additional one-million dollars to Wesley Memorial Hospital for a five-story annex to be called the Ruth Jones Allison Pavilion.

The will, filed Thursday in Probate Court, left $500,000 and an undisclosed amount of stock to her husband, William M. Allison, a real estate broker.

Henry F. Tenney, attorney who filed the will, said the money left to Northwestern will be used to finance the construction of a women's dormitory on the Evanston campus.

Mrs. Allison was the daughter of the late George Herbert Jones, co-founder of Inland Steel Co., had himself given Wesley Memorial Hospital a total of 13 1/2 million dollars.

Tenney said other beneficiaries included Chicago Junior High School, Elgin, Ill., $100,000; C. Ives Waldo, Chicago attorney, $25,000; Lorna Fisher, Mrs. Allison's beautiful, $10,000 and Blackburn College, Carlinville, Ill., $100,000.

'War and Peace' Begins Sunday at Orpheum Theatre

The moving picture film of Leo Tolstoy's "War and Peace," called the greatest novel ever written, will be shown at the Orpheum theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The film is a culmination of the long-standing dream of the motion picture industry and was made thirty years after the first unsuccessful attempt to dramatize the immortal classic.

The three-hour-and-twenty-eight-minute motion picture, "War and Peace," by Paramount required six years and the combined efforts of tens of thousands of people from all over the world. Filmed in Italy under the hand of producer Dino DeLaurentis and director King Vidor, the vast panorama of life, love and battle in Imperial Russia during the Napoleonic invasions has a remendous cast containing some of Europe and America's greatest acting names.

Starring in the three major roles are Audrey Hepburn, Henry Fonda and Mel Ferrer.

Eighteen thousand soldiers of the Italian Army and thousands of horses were used in the Vista-Vision, Technicolor film.

Detroit Factory Worker Admits He Is Mystery Sniper

DETROIT (AP)—A young factory worker who terrorized four suburbs with wild rifle fire Thursday night told police today he was Detroit's long sought mystery sniper.

Gary A. Taylor, 21, wounded two young women with .22 caliber fire and shot at seven other girls during a three-hour spree before police captured him in nearby Royal Oak.

Taylor was unable to explain his actions.

"I don't know what it was," Taylor said. "I just had an urge to shoot at women."

Oakland County Assistant Prosecutor William Lang said Taylor told him he was the mysterious sniper police had been seeking since Dec. 22 when a young woman was shot in the back while walking home with a friend. She recovered.

Since the Dec. 22 shooting, the sniper has fired at women standing at bus stops and at walking women. Until Thursday night, however, he had struck nobody again.

Mosquitoes are found as far north as the Arctic Circle.

ATTEND NEIGHBORHOOD OFFICER TRAINING MEETING

Neighborhood officer training was given Tuesday, Feb. 5, at the Girl Scout cabin at Herrin by Miss Mabel Webb, executive director, and Mrs. John Baudino, president of the King Coal Council. All 12 neighborhoods were represented and the neighborhood officers from Saline county were Mrs. J. A. Barker, Mrs. Roy Shain, Mrs. Glen Muckley, Mrs. Don Phillip, from Eldorado, and Mrs. K. C. Capel, Mrs. Charles Farrar, Mrs. Ronnie Doerge, Mrs. Leland Cutting, and Mrs. J. R. Hunter from Harrisburg.

I Reduced Without Diets—Used Renel

ROCK ISLAND, ILL. "I like Renel Concentrate very much — it is easy to use and most inexpensive. I eat right along with my family — no special diet needed while following the Renel home recipe way to reduce. I've lost 14 1/2 lbs. in less than 6 weeks and will lose another 15 lbs. or more with the help of Renel and without dieting. I'm 44 years of age and this is a safe weight loss for me and I soon will exchange size 18 clothes for 16 and I'll be so very happy to do so." So writes Mrs. Gladys Mohr of 2506 5th Ave. Get Renel at your drug store.

U. I. Says Demand For Journalism Grads Increasing

CHAMPAIGN, ILL. (AP)—The demand for graduates from the University of Illinois journalism school is increasing nearly twice as fast as the number of available graduates.

Director Fredrick S. Siebert reported Wednesday a tally of 1956 placement activity showed 380 job calls, a 20 per cent increase over 1955.

During the same period the school turned out 114 graduates, a 12 per cent increase over 1955.

Siebert said in the past most calls for Illinois graduates came from within the state but now the demand is nationwide. There is also an increasing trend, he said, for employers to send representatives to the campus to interview graduates.

He said salaries are increasing with some weekly newspapers now offering up to $5,000 a year to start. Several papers now give two years experience credit to graduates and some are conducting training programs which place above-average personnel at above-average salaries.

He added the demand for teachers in the field is also increasing.

To Publish Book On Area Customs By SIU Professor

David McIntosh

CARBONDALE, Ill. — "Singing Games and Dances," a book of Southern Illinois recreational customs written by David McIntosh, associate professor of music at Southern Illinois University, will be published by the American Press, Feb. 18.

The product of 15 years of research, the book will contain music and text to 50 games and dances from McIntosh's collection of over 700 folksongs and games.

McIntosh, a Steelville native who has been researching the sources of U. S. folk customs since 1930, said the book includes formation games "playable by any one from six to 90." Association Press, publishers of all YMCA books, intends the publication to be a text source for recreational use.

Previous publications by McIntosh include "Sing and Swing," published by the SIU press and "Singing Games and Dances of Southern Illinois," a privately printed booklet.

Raleigh Register

Opal Goodson, Correspondent

The young adult class of the First Baptist church Training Union met Saturday evening at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Howard Todd Taylor. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Farmer and son, Kenneth, Mr. and Mrs. John Peyton, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Henson and son, Eddie, Mr. and Mrs. Chesley Wiseman, Gene Herndon, Mrs. Georgia James and son, Dennis, Rev. and Mrs. Taylor and children, Stephen and Nancy.

Rev. Howard Todd Taylor is the evangelist for a revival at the North Willford Baptist church where Rev. Leroy Marvel is the pastor. The revival will continue until Feb. 10.

A revival will begin Feb. 11 at the Raleigh Baptist Mission at New Haven. Rev. Leroy Marvel will be the evangelist assisted by Rev. Howard Todd Taylor, pastor at the Raleigh First Baptist church and the Raleigh Baptist mission at New Haven.

Miss Zella Greenfield reports that she is recovering nicely from her recent illness and wishes to thank all who remembered her with their prayers, cards, letters and visits.

Mrs. Carrie Jones and Frank Arnt are new names on the sick list. They are both patients in an Eldorado hospital.

Darrell Yates of Edwardsville spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Yates Saturday. Afternoon callers at the Jesse Yates home were Mr. and Mrs. Willie McFarland of Galatia.

Korean Reds Tax Unmarried Women

SEOUL (AP)—The Communist authorities in North Korea are levying heavy taxes on unmarried women in an attempt to force them to marry Chinese Communist soldiers, the newspaper Seoul Shinmun reported today.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D. (Written for NEA Service)

"Cast thy bread upon the waters for thou shalt find it after many days." This verse of scripture commands unselfishness. Many people hesitate to apply this scripture in their benevolence and in their personal relationship with others. They overlook the fact that even advertising is based on a material application of this command.

Most successful companies spend thousands of dollars in order to earn back a percentage on the investment each year. Some businesses actually give away cash on quiz programs in order to influence the public to buy their products, and to gain public acceptance of their names.

We who give of ourselves and of our possessions ought to give thought to the returns we shall certainly receive. Human beings measure of glory, honor and a measure of glory. But our great return is from God in His quiet praise. "Well done, thou good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make the ruler over many things."

Smokey the Bear Material Available

Martin Anderson, district forester in Benton, announced today the 1957 forest fire control education material is now available. Included in this year's supply are Smokey Bear calendars, booklets, posters, stamps, and coloring books for children.

School principals and teachers, scout leaders, 4-H leaders, and others working in youth and education fields are invited to contact Anderson or the nearest forest fire warden for a supply.

Fire warden in this district are Fred Buchanan of Iuka, Inman Wheeler of Broughton, Edd Williams of West Frankfort, and Garland McAfee of Metropolis. Wardens are also available for school and scout programs on request, Anderson stated.

Report Legislator's Firm Receives $95,000 in State Contracts

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.)—Sangamon County State Atty. J. Waldo Ackerman Jr. said today his office would investigate reports that a state legislator's contracting firm received about $95,000 in state contracts.

Ackerman said he would assign his assistant, John Howarth, to investigate state records of possible dealings with the state by a firm owned by Rep. Charles W. Claiborn (R-Champaign).

The state's attorney said it was too early to tell whether any evidence would be presented to a grand jury.

A Chicago newspaper, The American, has reported that records in the State Division of Architecture and Engineering showed contracts totaling $95,000 had been awarded to the Champaign Weather Strip Co. since 1952.

Claiborn, chairman of the State School Problems Commission, owns the firm and state law prohibits legislators from bidding on state contracts or engaging in state business "directly or indirectly."

The law provides a penalty of a maximum $1,000 fine, forfeiture of the contracts and removal from office.

Claiborn is in Canada on a 10 day vacation.

Part of Gov't Debt Refinanced

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The Treasury reported today it has been moderately successful in re-financing part of the government debt which falls due shortly.

It did so, it said, by offering the highest interest rates on short term securities since the depression days of 1933.

The Treasury said it has exchanged nearly $9.9 billion in maturing securities for new issues, leaving about $875 million or 8 per cent, to be redeemed in cash.

The government's over-all debt is $275 billion, but only $10.7 billion of it must be refinanced at this time.

Treasury officials conceded that the cash demand on maturing issues was slightly higher than had been expected. Many holders of the securities, they said, apparently want cash to pay their income taxes.

The government's cash balance on Tuesday was $1.6 billion, slightly lower than normal. One official said the $875 million remaining to be paid will be a "pretty substantial drain" on the balance.

Jobholders Show Decline

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The number of American jobholders dropped by 1,660,000 in January the government reported today.

This was the biggest December-to-January decline since January, 1949.

The number of jobholders in January stood at 62,890,000 and the number of unemployed at 2,940,000. These were approximately the same levels as in January, 1956.

This marked the first time since March, 1955, that the number of jobholders for one month did not show a gain over the same month of the previous year.

The Commerce and Labor departments, said failure of the employment total to show an increase over January, 1956, was due to "the substantially lower level of farm employment."

Total non-farm employment also declined sharply between December and January but was still a record high level for the month.

The departments said the 1,660,000 December-to-January decline was due to sharp post-Christmas cutbacks in retail trade and postal service, large declines in construction and other outdoor work due to "abnormally severe weather" and also to a larger-than-usual decline in factory jobs.

The January total of 2,940,000 jobless persons looking for work represented an increase of 461,000 over the December total. The January total was 55,000 higher than in January, 1956.

The unemployment increase was much smaller than the employment decline because many housewives and students who left Christmas jobs did not seek other work last month, the departments said.

Five Injured When Airliner Hits Air Pocket

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Five persons aboard an Eastern Airlines plane en route to Chicago from Miami, Fla., were injured today when the craft hit an air pocket and bounced some of the passengers against the plane's ceiling.

Police rushed an ambulance and an emergency wagon to Midway Airport here, to meet the plane when it landed, and removed the injured to a hospital.

The injured, including the stewardess, were able to walk and none was believed seriously hurt. Authorities were alerted when the pilot messaged the control tower asking for an ambulance. Authorities said the mishap occurred when the plane hit a severe air pocket and lost speed, forcing the pilot to put the plane into a nose dive to recover air speed.

Congress Urged to Grant Top Nurses Rank of General, Admiral

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The American Nurses Assn. urged Congress today to grant top military nurses the rank of general and admiral.

The association endorsed a bill to give the Army and Air Force chief nurses the rank of brigadier general and the Navy chief nurse the rank of rear admiral.

Federal Judge Orders Probe of Oil, Gas Prices

ALEXANDER, Va. (U.P.)—Federal Judge Albert V. Bryan today ordered a grand jury investigation of the oil and gas industries' methods of price setting and distribution.

Bryan called a special grand jury to meet here March 9.

Bryan said the grand jury will investigate possible anti-trust violations by the petroleum industry.

The grand jury was summoned at the request of Justice Department attorney Horace Flurry, Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. announced some weeks ago that the department was studying the price situation in the oil industry in the light of price hikes put into effect following the Suez Canal crisis.

Three congressional committees—one in the House and two in the Senate—also are investigating the oil price hikes, which have increased domestic gasoline prices 1 cent a gallon and raised fuel oil and other petroleum product prices.

Bryan said the grand jury probe is aimed at all individuals, corporations, companies and associations in the petroleum industry.

Folsom Hits Army Action As Dictatorship

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama charged today that the Army's order requiring six months training for National Guardsmen is a step toward "military dictatorship."

Such a dictatorship, once established, he said, "could be overthrown only by bloodshed."

Folsom, who recently demanded Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson's ouster for charging that the Guard was used as a "draft-dodging" outfit in the Korean War testified at the House Armed Services subcommittee hearing into the controversy.

The governor said there has been a "constant concerted effort" by the Defense Department and the Budget Bureau "to downgrade the National Guard to such an extent that it would fall easy prey to the federal government."

At the same time, he said, there is an effort to "upgrade" the reserves which, he said, are "completely amenable to the whim and caprices of Department of Defense control."

Folsom said that if the reserves and Guard were placed "under complete Pentagon control... you will have the making of a military dictatorship which could be overthrown only by bloodshed."

"If you do not believe this," he said, "look south of the border where some of our neighbors have done this very thing."

Folsom asked a subcommittee members to back the National Guard's position that six months training is not necessary for Guardsmen. Guard supporters have advocated an 11-week training program.

Shuman Criticizes Suggestion of Gov't Controls

CHICAGO (U.P.)—The president of the American Farm Bureau Federation Thursday night criticized President Eisenhower's suggestion of possible price and wage controls to halt inflation.

Charles B. Shuman, in a statement, said if Mr. Eisenhower "really wants to check inflation," he "should recommend to Congress steps to cut the federal budget."

Shuman blamed "government spending" for what he termed "current inflationary pressures," and said that price and wage boosts are "symptoms of inflation rather than the cause."

"We have had sufficient experience in recent times to know that price and wage controls are not effective measures in controlling inflation," he said. "Where controls do succeed in holding down prices, they lead to shortages and black markets."

Shuman said controls would work a hardship on farmers. He said farmers also lose from inflation, but controls "are not the answer" to their problems.

Sues Air Line For $250,000

NEW YORK (U.P.)—A man sued United Air Lines Thursday for $250,000 as the result of the death of his wife in the bombing of a DC6B in flight in November, 1955, in Colorado by recently executed John Gilbert Graham.

Charles H. Winsor of St. John's, Nfld., charged the air line with negligence and carelessness for not examining the plane properly before takeoff from Denver, November 1, and accused it of desecrating his wife's body by shipping it "in a naked condition" to St. John's.

Nothing Like A Subordinate

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—When Iraqi Crown Prince Abdul Ilah, who hates to make speeches, ordered Iraqi Ambassador Mousa Al-Shabandar to read a prepared address to the National Press Club Thursday the ambassador remembered he had forgotten his reading glasses, and told Adnan M. Pachachi, embassy second secretary to read the speech. Pachachi read.

Couple Leaps To Their Deaths

NEW YORK (U.P.)—An unemployed Brooklyn man and his wife jumped to their deaths today from the top of their 14-story apartment building in an apparent suicide pact. In their apartment police found the body of their 5-year-old daughter.

Police identified the victims as Joseph Kennedy, 46, his wife, Nan, 45 and their daughter, Valerie.

The Kennedys, married for seven years, did not leave any suicide notes behind but police said Kennedy had been sick and unemployed for many years. In the apartment police found numerous medicine bottles and stacks of unpaid medical bills.

The child's body was found in a large twin bed. Police said the girl had died from "suffocation or fright." They said there were no marks on her body but said her tongue was sticking out as if she had strangled. Police said she apparently died about three hours before her parents jumped to their deaths.

Eisenhowers Hold Military, Judicial Reception

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—It was practically old-home week at the White House Thursday night for old Army man Dwight D. Eisenhower and his wife.

The President and First Lady greeted scores of their military friends at the second state reception of the season honoring both the military and the judicial branch of the government.

Among the first to arrive at the crowded reception where the military outshone the judicial for color or were retired wartime leaders Fleet Adm. William D. Leahy and Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault.

The military part of the guest list was limited to those with the rank of major general and rear admiral or above since this year's curtailed social schedule includes only three big league receptions.

Chief Justice Earl Warren and his wife led the judicial partygoers.

Rites Saturday for Retired Minister

Funeral services for Sam Siskler, retired Baptist minister and life long resident of the Rock community who died early Thursday morning, will be Saturday at 2 p. m. at Mt. Zion Baptist church near Rock community. Rev. John L. Cox and Rev. George S. Carter will officiate. The body lies in state at the Palmer and Aly funeral home in Eddyville.

Ex-Speakeasy Queen Dies

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Funeral services will be held Saturday for Belle Livingstone, the famed speakeasy queen of the prohibition era who associated with the noted and notorious of two continents while going through several fortunes during her legendary career.

Miss Livingstone, whose colorful behavior made her the symbol of the prohibition era, died Thursday in the obscurity of a Bronx nursing home. She was 95.

Afflicted with alcoholism a heart ailment and debt since the end of the dry era, the one-time international playgirl spent the last years of her life dependent on the charity of friends.

Described in her memoirs as "the toast of Europe and America," Miss Livingstone claimed friendships with King Edward VII of England, King Leopold II of Belgium, Theodore Roosevelt and other world renowned figures. Married four times, her husbands included an Italian count, a German industrialist and a son of a governor of the Bank of England.

Adenauer Sees Turning Point in Russian Policy

BONN, Germany (U.P.)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer received a personal note from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin today and said afterward that a "turning point" in Russian foreign policy is likely in the near future.

Soviet Ambassador Andrei Smirnov handed the note to Adenauer at a surprise 50-minute meeting less than 24 hours after Smirnov returned here from six weeks in Moscow.

Adenauer listed four reasons why he believed such a turning point had come: 1. The development of modern atomic weapons, 2. The "spirit of freedom" among the satellites, 3. Failure of the Communist system to develop economic prosperity, and 4. The unity of Western Europe and the rest of the free world.

Little Saudi Arabian Prince Tosses Ice Cream, Cake Party for Children

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Little Prince Mashhur wowed the girls Thursday at a small fry party for members of the diplomatic set.

The 3-year-old Saudi Arabian prince tossed an ice cream and cake party for the children of Middle East and American diplomatic officials.

The party, held in a ballroom at the Saudi Arabian embassy, started quietly enough. But pandemonium soon broke out with the children shouting and blowing horns and the curious adult, milling about.

The prince and his little guests were served cake, red punch and colored ice cream in the form of animals. The cake was inscribed: Welcome Prince Mashhur.

At one point, someone suggested that the prince should shake hands with 3-year-old Mary Harris, granddaughter of George Washington, U. S. ambassador to Saudi Arabia. The prince firmly grasped Mary's thumb and steadfastly refused to let go, despite her wails and tears.

He consoled her by putting his arm around her.

Later, Ronda Carmi, daughter of a Saudi Arabian embassy secretary, kissed the prince. He leaned over and kissed her back — on the nose.

President to Leave for Georgia

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—President Eisenhower planned to leave for a Georgia vacation today after his final conference with King Saud of Saudi Arabia.

Snyder said the President will stay "about a week" at the Thomasville, Ga., estate of Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey.

Mrs. Eisenhower and her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud; the President's physician, Dr. Howard McC. Snyder; and Humphrey and his wife will accompany the President aboard the government plane, Colombine III.

Italian Sources Believe Minor Olympic Sports Will Be Deemphasized

ROME, Italy (AP)—Russia may have a mighty tough time defending its overall Olympic championship here in 1960, if what Italian Olympic officials believe is correct.

The Italian sources said Thursday they think such "minor" sports as gymnastics, canoeing, and target shooting will be greatly deemphasized in 1960. The Soviets scored heavily in all three at Melbourne in 1956 to beat out the United States for the unofficial but coveted team championship.

The changes might go something like this, according to the Italians:

A gymnast could win only one gold medal for the championship in his class. Under existing rules, gold medals are awarded for each phase of competition and one gymnast conceivably could win as many as eight.

Canoeing, now a five-event show, may be cut to just one each for men and women.

In target shooting, the running deer event, a sport practiced by only a few hundred marksmen, may be eliminated.

On the other hand, track and swimming—sports in which the United States always scores heavily—would be retained in their present form.

Galatia Wins District Junior High Tourney

Dorrisville Loses In Final, 48-44; Raleigh Is Third

Galatia won the championship of the district Junior high school tournament by taking a 48-44 decision from Dorrisville in the title game Thursday night.

Raleigh took third place honors of the tourney, held at Omaha, by beating New Haven 50-47 in the consolation game.

Just a week ago Galatia and Dorrisville battled to a 48-44 decision in the championship game of the Midget conference tourney, with Dorrisville the winner, and last night Galatia completely turned the tables, Galatia winning by the same score.

Boyet and Riddle, with 18 and 16 respectively, paced Galatia to victory with Riddle having a sensational third quarter, hitting five long shots without a miss in the period. Lamb's 16 points was tops for Dorrisville.

Scoring in championship game: Galatia—Malone 2, Bond 2, Sutter 8, Boyett 18, Riddle 16 and Grisham 2; Dorrisville—Lamb 16, Hutchison 6, Cline 14, McKeever 2 and McClusky 6.

Both Galatia and Dorrisville will participate in the regional tourney, which starts at Norris City Monday night.

Galatia will play Carrier Mills in the second game Monday night and Dorrisville plays in Wednesday's first game, playing the winner of the Harrisburg-Norris City game, which opens the tourney.

Clark Replaces Hill as Head USC Grid Coach

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Penalty-ridden University of Southern California has turned to a member of its own staff to assume the role of head football coach after having vainly sought a name coach.

The school Thursday night named line coach Don Clark, a member of the coaching staff for the past six years, as the replacement for Jess Hill, who takes over as athletic director next fall.

The selection climaxed nearly a year of second guessing as to who would follow in the footsteps of Hill who gave the Pacific Coast Conference its only victory over the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl since the bowl pact began 10 years ago. Hill was at the helm of the Trojans for five seasons and his team in 1952 defeated Wisconsin, 7-0, in the granddaddy of all bowl games.

School officials announced 13 months ago that Hill would succeed retiring Willis O. (Bill) Hunter as athletic director in the fall of 1957. At first USC had a lot of potential takers for the coming football coach vacancy but the PCC later imposed stiff penalties against the school, resulting in a boycott by those who previously were eager to coach the always powerful Trojans.

The conference nearly ruined the Trojans' football machine by not only barring the school from winning championships but taking a year's eligibility away from all athletes for allegedly receiving "under the table" payments from alumni groups. Senior players last season only were allowed to play in five games and the juniors on last season's roster completed their eligibility.

Both USC and its crosstown rival, UCLA, were hit by the ruling. Both schools also threatened at one time to bolt the conference because of the penalties. But the NCAA backed the PCC and the Trojans and Bruins were forced to serve their sentence.

Results of Games In Church League

Results of church league games played Thursday night: Intermediate league—First Baptist 46, Sloan Street General Baptist 33; Dorrisville Social Brethren 30, Nazarene 22; McKinley Baptist 39, North Willford 20; Senior league—First Christian 60, Dorrisville Baptist 23.

Monday's schedule: Junior league—Presbyterian vs. Dorrisville Baptist; Intermediate league—Dorrisville Baptist vs. Presbyterian and First Baptist vs. Dorrisville Social Brethren; Senior league—Presbyterian vs. First Baptist.

North Carolina Loses Third Cage Player

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP)—North Carolina, the nation's No. 1 basketball team, already hit by the loss of two players, has lost another because of scholastic troubles.

Coach Frank McGuire announced Thursday that six-foot sophomore guard Stan Groll, the team's top substitute, had flunked out of school.

DON'T HOLD TIGHT—Jackie Jensen, Boston Red Sox outfielder, plans to spend the first two weeks of spring training with the San Francisco Seals. But he wants to make sure the Seals' trainer, Leo (Doc) Hughes, doesn't hang onto him for the whole Pacific Coast League season. The majors, as Jackie can tell you, are a bit better.

Looking at Sports

BY BILL MELTON

In this column earlier in the week it was mentioned that Roger Suttner, the towering, high-scoring center at Ridgeway high school, was now 6-9½ plus in height.

The column closed with these remarks—"Move over 'Wilt The Stilt'. Make room for Roger the ???". This department is open for a suggestion for an appropriate name for the fine prospect for Ridgeway with two more seasons to play after this one."

In Thursday's mail there was a very interesting letter from Jay Bynum, faculty member at the HTHS. The letter covered the nicknaming of athletes rather completely and it is being passed on to you:

"Bill: All the basketball fans of Southern Illinois will thank you for the opportunity you extended in your February 5 column. It isn't every day that one has the opportunity to witness the nicknaming of an outstanding sports figure. We agree with you that Roger Suttner will probably draw no little attention down at Ridgeway high school during the next two basketball seasons.

"Nicknaming some athletes comes naturally: Stan the Man, the Brown Bomber, the Yankee Clipper, Dizzy Dean, Shoeless Joe Packson, etc. With some the nick-name never sticks, as witness Ted Williams, the Splendid Spinter, and others.

"Nicknames are a sort of endearment, an affectionate and less formal substitute for a name. It's done to express approval, admiration, or just plain friendliness.

"Usually some thing about the person or his name suggests a suitable sobriquet, and the nicknaming is done gradually, almost unconsciously. There are almost set rules by which it is done. The name must be slightly humorous, fanciful, or alliterative, such as Wilt the Stilt.

"How to hang a suitable appellation on Roger?

"Roger Hornsby was called Rajah Hornsby. Raja is an oriental title of distinction. It would be especially appropriate in this case, as witness: Suttner, the Rajah of Ridgeway.

Or—how about Roger the Dodger (a dodger is a trickier fellow)? Roger the Lodger would be the name for one who customarily LODGES the ball in the net. Roger the Gouger offers a remote possibility since a gouger is one who over-reaches and in a few years Roger WILL BE reaching over the goal.

"Opponents will alternately curse his ability and call him Roge the Hodge, for a hodge is a rustic or a clown. But he will be much too good a ball player to let that irritate him, so, being defeated, the opponent will steal away muttering, "Roger the Rogue!"

"Nor do these exhaust the possibilities. There are those names which describe his extraordinary abilities. Dunk, Hook, Whip, Half-a-Hundred; those which are taken from his physical appearance, Lofty, Cloudy, Duck, Sky High, Seven Up, Rail, Derrick.

But the odds are even that he'll turn up with some ordinary nickname like Rog, Curly, Red (or Whitey, or Blackie), Spike, Slim, or Shorty—Shorty?—"

"Well, anyway, we can try, Jay Bynum"

Thanks, Jay. We don't have a nickname yet. But you have suggested lots of possibilities and the letter was interesting.

I believe you are right in this remark... "nicknaming is done gradually, almost unconsciously." The name that will stick will probably be yelled out some night by an excited fan during the heat of play.

Hank Aaron Signs Contract

By United Press

Hammering Hank Aaron of Milwaukee, who was asking for a 100 per cent raise, happily settled for a 50 per cent one today that will pay him about $27,000 for swinging his big bat this year.

A Thursday night telephone call from General Manager John Quinn in Milwaukee to Aaron at his home in Mobile, Ala., settled the whole business.

Aaron, who led the National League in batting with a .328 mark last year and hit 26 home runs, had been seeking double the estimated $18,000 he received last season. Quinn had been negotiating with the 23-year-old outfielder over the phone two weeks.

"I'm definitely not disappointed," Aaron said after his talk with Quinn. "How did I do? Fairly well. I wouldn't want to discuss the contract but I'm very happy about it. The Braves are a great bunch and I'm glad to be with them."

Aaron's acceptance of terms left southpaw Warren Spahn as the Braves leading player still unsigned.

Johnson Leads In Tucson Open

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A big fellow with heart trouble, who took up the nerve-racking game of golf, carried a one-stroke lead in today's second round of the Tucson Open, where a horde of professionals unleashed a flock of birdies to shatter par opening day.

Howie Johnson, 31, six-foot, two-inch, 205-pounder from Houston, Tex., shot a six-under-par 64 on the 6,434-yard, easy putting, El Rio Country Club course in the opening round Thursday.

That was one stroke better than 65's posted by Frank Stranahan, former amateur star from Toledo, Ohio, and Joe Zakarian, Escondido, Calif.

Two strokes off the pace going into the second round were Phoenix Open winner Bill Casper Jr., Bonita, Calif.; former National Open champion Julius Boros, Mid Pines, N. C., and Doug Ford, Los Angeles Open victor from Mahopac, N. Y., all with cards of 66.

Just behind them, with 67s, were Johnny Bulla, Phoenix, Johnny Pott, Shreveport, La.; Bob Inman, Detroit; Paul McGuire, Shaker Heights, Ohio; Bill Trombley, Dallas, Tex.; and Milon Marusic, Webster Groves, Mo.

Three major varieties of trout sought by American fly fishermen are the brook, brown and the rainbow.

Martinez Favored In Bout Tonight With Courchesne

NEW YORK (AP)—Featherweight Isidro Martinez of Panama makes his Madison Square debut and his second U. S. appearance tonight in a 10-rounder with Bob by Courchesne of Holyoke, Mass. It will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC.

"Issi," the ex-shoeshine boy who became 126-pound champion of Panama, is favored at 2-1 to polish off Courchesne, the ex-stone mason who became lightweight ruler of New England.

Martinez is favored principally because of his impressive U. S. debut at Washington, D. C., on Jan. 4, when he won an upset decision over ex-contender Ike Chestnut of New York.

Martinez, 22, has a 16-2-1 record that includes seven knockouts. Irish Courchesne, 21, is much more experienced than Issi though a year younger. His 47-6-2 record includes 18 knockouts.

NATIONAL ELECTRICAL WEEK...

a salute to

Progress

1775 Men took up their muskets against England's tyranny—the light of Progress through Freedom was lit in this country.

1865 The chains of human bondage were broken; all men were free—the light glowed brighter.

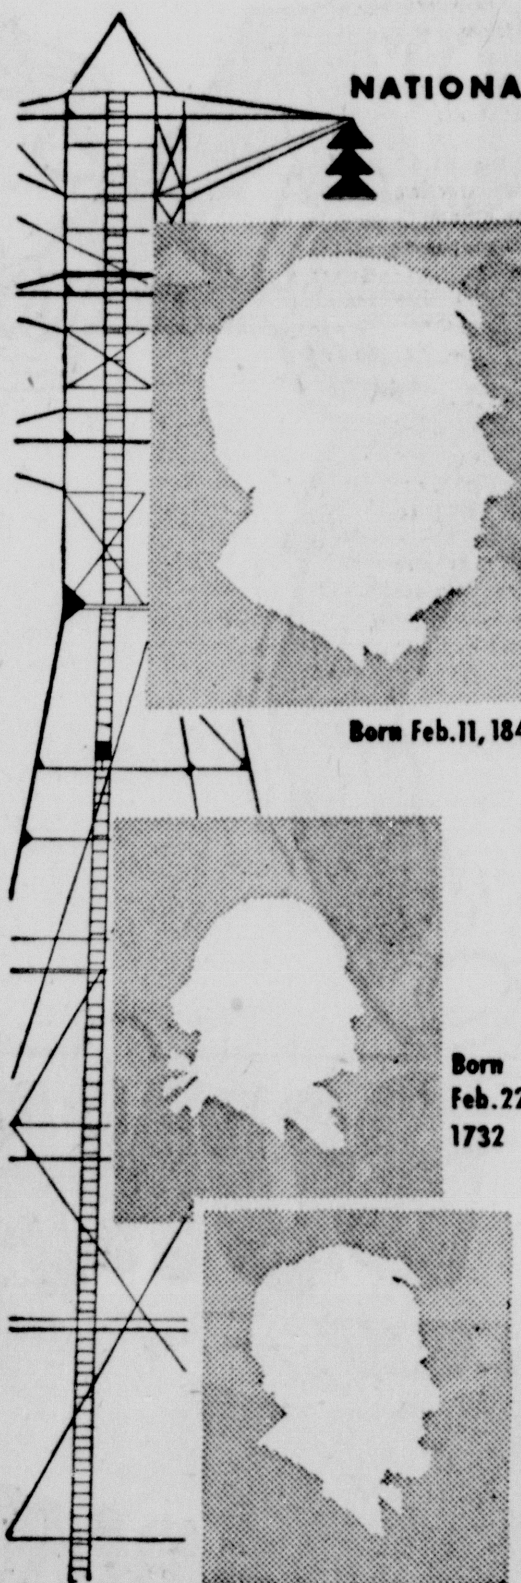

1879 America put out its kerosene lamps to bask in the radiance of the era of Better Living through Electricity.

National Electrical Week salutes Thomas A. Edison, who 77 years ago gave the world the first practical incandescent lamp. He developed the first entire system of Electric generation, transmission and distribution. Through his genius, Edison established many of the fundamental principles that underlie modern power systems.

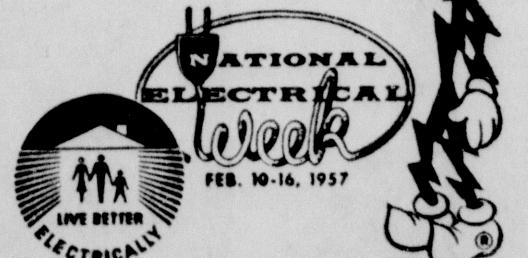

The story of our nation's progress is shrouded with the names of great men and great events. The Age of Independence marked the Freedom of our country, the Age of Equality brought Freedom from slavery, the Age of Electricity freed man from the darkness of drudgery, illuminated the path of progress through the inventions of Thomas Edison, who blazed the trail of our giant Electrical industry, the lifeline of our great nation.

Hershey Urges Military Training For Fathers, 4-Fs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey said today the nation should give military training to many fathers and 4-Fs who are now draft-deferred.

Hershey said many of the 3,700,000 in these groups "could perform well, especially in a ready reserve." "If there is a large mobilization they will be taken," Hershey said. "It would seem wise for the nation and humane for them if they were trained."

Marcy gazed at the man, and the man gazed at Marcy. Like two people alone there in the wide hall of the Haven. Cass had turned to repair the damage done by the wind among the papers on her desk. It was getting darker, and darker. She glanced at her wrist — 4:30. Alex surely wouldn't come home in this.

She went to the window and looked out across the side porch, rain was slanting down in a slashing curtain of silver.

"Goodness!" she said, and turned back to Marcy and the strange young man who had some sort of business with the girl. They'd better stay here and talk; several guests were in the living room.

By the time, Marcy was pulling in her arms out of the coat, and laughing about something. "You should ride in a police car!" she declared. "They do things they wouldn't stand for from plain, ordinary folks."

"I've ridden in 'em," said the man's nice voice, and Marcy laughed gaily. "Of course you have!" Which seemed an odd thing to say, but Cass had other matters on her mind. Rain was driving in under the front door—Cass sent Will Ivory to mop it up. "And there's a spot where Miss Marcy's coat dripped, too, Will."

"Is that Miss Marcy's husband in yondah?" asked Will Ivory, bringing the mop back to the kitchen.

Cass turned to look at him. "Why—"

"They sure crazy 'bout each other," said Will. "Must be 'ma'ed." Cass stepped to the end of the hall; Marcy and the dark-haired man sat on the couch, oblivious of storm, or dark—their eyes were intent, their voices soft. Why, of course that's who he was! How nice! The poor man had taken matters into his own hands, and obviously Marcy was going to let him.

Well, that spiked Cass's plan to ask Marcy to stand by with Aunt Cordy so Backy could help in the kitchen.

She hurried through the hall. "Your young man had better stay for supper," she called to Marcy as she passed them.

"Did the lightning hit here?" he asked, rising to come to her.

That had not occurred to her. But he and Marcy said they'd go up to the attic and look, which they did, holding hands, scampering.

"Here's the doctor," said the helper-boy.

She was so glad to see Alex, though, wifelike, she must intersperse a word to scold him for his coming out in all that rain with a bid for him to share her concern. "How am I going to manage?"

He smiled down at her. "You'll manage," he told her. "It's a bad storm. The creek will be up and running if this continues. Who's government car is that parked in the drive?"

Marcy's voice called gaily that Jake couldn't find any damage. And Cass whispered to Alex whose the car was, who "Jake" was. He lifted a wet eyebrow. "Just don't force things," suggested Cass. "I think everything's going to be all right. They're obviously crazy about each other."

She was again absorbed in her plans for supper.

"I'll go and try to get the guests to their rooms," offered Alex. "Probably scared, some of them. But mass panic would be worse. How's Mother?"

"All right, I think. I've left her to Backy."

"Who's probably under the bed," laughed Alex, wincing at another roaring crash of thunder.

A tree top crashed down across the side porch steps—"Missed your car, Jake," shouted Alex, who had braved the maelstrom to investigate.

"Who cares?" shouted Jake.

Alex had shed his jacket, as had Jake, she found, when she came downstairs again. Cuffs folded back, he was mopping water away from the front door. Again Cass went to fetch a braided rug to fold there. "A fine way to treat a first-time guest," she drawled, as she gave the thing to him.

"I've never enjoyed a visit more!" he told her, in precisely the joyous tone which Marcy had used.

An end-of-the-world crash shook the house from turret to foundation, and the lights went off without a sputter. Just softly, inexorably, they were gone. An eerie darkness settled into the rooms, like fog. Upstairs a woman began to scream.

There were candles—and a flashlight. Alex would have another in his medical bag.

Calling to Marcy, Cass hurried to the dining room, glancing up at the stifled fans. But, of course! "I'll get the candles," Marcy told her.

"Were we struck?" Cass asked her.

"If we were the rain will put out any fire."

"I'll check," came Jake's voice from the shadows, and Cass, flashlight in hand, went on toward Aunt Cordy's room. Backy sat in the rocking chair, her dress skirt up over her head, and she was moaning, moaning. "Lawd! Lawd!"

Aunt Cordy was as usual, propped upon her pillow, seemingly undisturbed. "Backy," said Cass firmly to the black woman, "You help Marcy take candles to the rooms."

"Jedgment done come, Miss Cass. Jedgment..."

"Oh, shut up!" said Cass, and heard Jake's deep laugh behind her.

St. Mary's Church to Observe National Brotherhood Week with Open House Feb. 24

In observance of National Brotherhood Week, St. Mary's Church of Harrisburg will hold a public open house on Feb. 24. Regarding this observance, Father T. G. Bruns of St. Mary's states:

"For nearly 25 years the National Conference of Christians and Jews has sponsored a nationwide observance of Brotherhood Week. The President of the United States is honorary chairman and millions of Americans participate.

"This year Brotherhood Week will be held Feb. 17-24. Its observance is part of the work of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, which is a civic organization engaged in an educational program for better human relations 365 days of every year and which urges Protestants, Catholics, and Jews to work together to build a better relationship among men of all religions.

"Brotherhood means understanding, and if America ever needed Brotherhood and understanding it needs it today. As Virginius Dabney, editor of the Richmond (Va.) Times-Dispatch says: 'No one would be happier than Soviet Russia if the Catholics, Protestants, and Jews of the United States could be brought to hate — distrust one another. It is a foremost objective of the Communists to stir up antagonisms and sow seeds of discord among the major religious groups."

Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, Presbyterian minister, who heads the National Conference of Christians and Jews, explains it this way:

"By getting to know the other fellow, the one who has a different creed, race, or national origin than yours, by understanding his viewpoint, his ambitions and goals, you will find old prejudices disappear.

"You'll learn to accept or reject a person strictly on his merits as a human being and not because he happens to be different from you. We hope that during Brotherhood Week people will get together with people they know, with people they don't know, and with people they wish to know."

Catholics of the Diocese of Belleville, of which St. Mary's of Harrisburg is a part, are most anxious to promote the principles of Brotherhood Week and that understanding which is so important to the unity of this country. They feel, too, that most difficulties which do exist are promoted in most part by misunderstanding.

To ask God's blessing to achieve the ever desired understanding the people of St. Mary's will participate in special prayers and devotions during the month of February, and during Brotherhood Week they will visit every home in Harrisburg to extend an invitation to one and all to the "Open House" to be held at St. Mary's Church on Sunday afternoon, Feb.

24. On this date members of the parish will be on hand to explain any questions to visitors and to escort them through the Church.

A television program also will be presented over WSIL Saturday from 6:50 to 7 p. m. to stress the Brotherhood Week Open House.
